SOUSA'S BAND HERE.

Gave Good Entertainment Although

Sousa Was Not Here. Sousa's band without the dramatic leadership of the great musician was a drawing card at The Colonial on Saturday evening and many remarked on leaving the hall that only the eye noticed the change, the ear was not affected. The assistant conductor, Herbert L. Clarke, gave general satisfaction, and the house which was one of the largest in years, came away entirely satisfied with the concert although disappointed that Sousa was obliged to remain in New Haven. The program was of a varied character, to suit all tastes and show the versatility of the band. The selections rendered as encores were all popular music and nearly all Sousa's own compositions. The soprano soloist, Miss Virginia Root, and the violin soloist, Miss Nicoline Zedeler, pleased all and the cornet solos by the leader, Mr. Clarke, were enthusiastically received.

The band remained in town until Sunday afternoon when they took the train for Montreal where it was expected that Sousa would join them.

Then they swarmed up into and filled the gallery of the House. After witnessing the government in action for a while and exploring the various rooms of the capitol, the children were ready for the home

To say that they enjoyed the going and coming is to put it mildly. Mr. Calder-wood had sent aboard a large bunch of nice ripe bananas at Montpelier. At the proper time four of the larger boys took charge of their distribution and as they passed down the aisles that bunch soon became only a memory.

The Boys Defeated Lyndon Institute Last Wednesday morning in chapel, Mr. Smith, the instructor, who has coached the Academy team gave an inspiring talk about winning the game with Lyndon Institute. In response to his appeal the Academy team that afternoon did defeat the Institute. The first period was very evenly played punts being exchanged but no decisive advantage gained. The second period the Academy team marched down the field in spite of Lyndon's desperate defence. A touch down would have been made if time had not been called, but Lyndon was saved for the time. The third period was closely contested, but the Academy team were not to be checked. Plumley, Elliot and Noyes carried the ball for long gains, and at last, Noyes carried the ball from a fake the palmetto. There is a carload of play over the goal line for a touchdown. ## AMUSEMENTS

"A Gentleman from Mississippi." "A Gentleman from Mississippi" will be presented here at The Colonial Friday evening by Wm. A. Brady. This famous comedy drama was the laughing sensation of New York for more than two years, playing to crowded houses even on the most torrid and oppressive nights of the summer months. Those who have seen the piece say that there are more laughs and better fun in one act of it than in half of the comedies now on the road all put together. It is the merriest of all plays. And there is sentiment, too. Love scene after love scene, some of them mirth provoking and others filled with beautiful sentiment, abound in the play. There is a delightful southern atmosphere about it all that suggests the land of roses and special scenery and no expense has the score stood 5-0 in favor of the a lavish one.
